Pasadena Athlete Shows Way to Strong Field in Pershing Stadium

PERSHING STADIUM, Joinville-le-Point, Paris, June 26 .- The Stars and Stripes waved triumphantly here to-day Stripes waved triumphantly here to-day when American contestants captured the first two finals events in the inter-Allied track and field championships. American supremacy was first evident in the 100-metre dash, Charles Paddock, of Pasadena. Cal., defeating the exceptionlly strong field that opposed him. Shortly afterward it was announced that the United States had taken the first three places in the hand grenade throwing, with Chaplain Fred C. Thomson, of Los Angeles, Cal., showing the way.

Fred C. Thomson, of Los Angeles, Cal., showing the way.
Paddock sprinted over the rain-soaked ground in 111-5 seconds, followed closely by Eddie Teschner, the former Harvard runner. Howard, of Canada, was third, while Lindsay, the New Zealand star, whom many had picked to prove more than a match for Paddock, trailed behind. Butler and Hutchinson, the other American entries, and Caste, of France, were also unplaced.

This event was originally scheduled for yesterday, but was postponed a day

In a event was originally scheduled for yesterday, but was postponed a day by Colonel Walt Johnson, of the Games Committee, in order that the contestants might have better track conditions. This postponement did not meet with the approval of the French entries, but their objections were overruled.

ruled.

Chaplain Thomson, who recently won the A. E. F. hand grenade throwing title, to-day made a toss of 749-10 metres. His brother, Sidney C., was second, with 731-10 metres. Dominick C. Wycavage, of Luzerne, Penn., was third.

C. Wycavage, of Luzerne, Penn., was third.

Paddock and Teschner, along with Marshall Haddock, of Kansas City, Ill., also qualified for the 200-metre run finals, which were held yesterday. Both Paddock and Teschner won their heats, the former in the best time of 23 seconds, while Haddock finished second to Howard, of Canada.

America also qualified three of its best hurdlers for the final of the 110-metre high hurdles contest in Robert L. Simpson, of Chicago; Fred Kelly, of New York, and W. B. Ames, of Oak Park, Ill. Wilson, of New Zealand, was the only other competitor to reach the final. Simpson and Kelly each won their heats in rather slow time on account of the poor track.

Another victory for Uncle Sam came in the soccer football contest, the Canadian team losing a close game. The attendance for the last two days was small owing to the rain. During the games yesterday a number of the French contestants were invited into the covered grandstand when rain began to fall. The American military police ordered them to leave, and immediately there was considerable discreter. However, Colonel Johnson quieted the turmoil.

Collegiate Stars Join Local Athletic Clubs

With the closing of the high schools and colleges, clubs of this city are faily being strengthened by former tudent athletes. A total of twenty fled their transfers with the registration committee of the A. A. U. yesterday, with the majority joining the New York A. C. Among those to change their club affiliations was A. Perry Roberts, of Stevens Tech, who was the individual star in the Middle States Intercollegiate championships. He joined the "New Yorks."

To Sport

In you I feel the Pulse of Life; In you I see Art and Romance; Born where red-flowing blood is rife, Of Courage-and the Goddess Chance; The call on Nerve and Brain and Heart

Where each in turn must do its part. You've shown the fickleness of Fame, How brief the laurel's fleeting day, The emptiness of all acclaim

That greets the player-and the play; How one at morning knows the height, But passes, long forgot, by night.

You've shown the fickleness of Fame, But with it the eternal worth Of one who dares to play the Game Beyond the scorers of the earth; Who sees above the din and roar A dream beyond the final score.

But more than all you hold the heart Around the morning time of life; For you are Youth along life's chart,

No matter how the years are rife You are the thrill that stalks the moors, The open road—the great outdoors.

About the only one in the nation pulling for Sullivan to lose, as we recall the bygone details, was J. J. Corbett. Nor was there any great demonstration of joy when Jim Jeffries knocked out Bob Fitzsimmons.

Women Tennis Players Hardier Than the Men

Fair Sex Defies Rain on Courts at Orange, N. J.; Mrs. Mills Moves Up

By Fred Hawthorne

Far be it from me to draw invidious comparisons, but the facts fairly shrick ground strokes and a more reliable overhead game.

Mrs. Samuel F. Waring and Miss Martha Bayard, the brilliant young junior from Short Hills, struggled grimly in the third round brackets for a decision, but had to call it off after each had won a set and with the games at 2—all in the third. They will start at that point this morning. Earlier in the afternoon Mrs. Waring had defeated Mrs. W. H. Pritchard at 6—3, 6—3, playing a better game than she has shown in several weeks. Her backhand was the only really weak point yesterday, and she generally covered this up skilfully by running around the ball to take it on her forehand.

But when she took the court against the makings of a fine player, playing sher shots with great deliberation, and always taking advantage of the openings. It was when she came to the net that she displayed her greatest weakness. Even so, she managed to fight to out on an even footing, and the result to-day is problematical.

The summaries:

Women's middle states championship singles (second round)—Mrs. Samuel F. Waring defeated Mrs. William H. Pritchard. Ge-3, 6—3.

Third round—Miss Helene Pollak defeated Miss Lois Scherer, 6—1, 6—1: Miss Mari Wagner defeated Mrs. Villiam H. Pritchard. Ge-3, 6—3.

13, 1908, a license was issued to Jesse
M. Willard, aged twenty-two, both residents of Pottawatomic County, Kan.

Raceland Handicap

and 4 Other Stirring Contests

Rain yesterday saved the Athletics another beating by the Yankees and kept the Giants and Dodgers from mauling each other on the Flatbush lot. Both contests were postponed and will be played at a later date in the form of a double-header. The Yanks will begin a five-game series with the champion Red Sox this afternoon, "Babe" Ruth and his fence-breaking stick being an added attraction. "Babe" will have plenty of chance in this series to damage the Polo Grounds and the fans will have numerous opportunities to watch the young giant flay the apple. A double-header beginning at 1:30 this afternoon will start the series and to-morrow, Sunday and Monday one game will be played each day. The saries will give the locals a chance to strengthen their hold on first place helore they start on their next Western trip, provided the pitching and hitting are produced in the same meas.
